Concerns

The image shows a grid of checkboxes for various concerns. Each checkbox is a white rectangle with a black border. Some checkboxes have a checked mark inside a red square. Red arrows point from specific checkboxes to a large red box at the bottom. The checkboxes are arranged in five rows:

Flea and tick <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Skin/ear infections <input type="checkbox"/>	Urinary problems <input type="checkbox"/>
Eye issues <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Diarrhea and vomiting <input type="checkbox"/>	Mobility concerns <input type="checkbox"/>
Trauma/injury triage <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Preventative wellness <input type="checkbox"/>	Nutrition <input type="checkbox"/>
Training & obedience <input type="checkbox"/>	Toxin ingestion <input type="checkbox"/>	Grooming advice <input type="checkbox"/>
Weight loss <input type="checkbox"/>	New parent <input type="checkbox"/>	Others <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom, a large red rectangular button contains the text 'SEE ALL VETS'.

Hello! I am Dr Maria Lamrou and I graduated with a distinction from the Veterinary School of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki in 2019. On the same year, I completed a postgraduate training in Anesthesia and Critical Care in the same department and currently I study towards a Certificate in Small Animal Medicine. I'm an experienced General Practitioner, with a passion on emergencies and soft tissue surgeries. I attend multiple courses throughout the year to keep my knowledge up to date. I used to run my family veterinary clinic in Greece for more than 2 years and since September 2022 I have been treating pets in the UK. Feel free to book an appointment with me and go through your pet's needs together. I look forward meeting you both!
